

Transfer Opportunities for American Honors & American Success Students

American Honors is a two-year college honors program where students earn an associate degree and prepare to transfer to their best-fit US university for their junior and senior years to complete a bachelor's degree. Key benefits include honors-level academics, an Honors advisor, leadership and professional development, an Honors community, and transfer support.

The following is a selection of schools in the American Honors Transfer Network. Network schools are interested in receiving applications from American Honors graduates and some may offer fee waivers, enhanced course transfer, or conditional acceptance to students who meet eligibility criteria.

Transfer Network Participant Type:

Participant - CLA Institutions: 4-year colleges and universities that work closely with American Honors to facilitate the transfer process. This includes conditional acceptance agreements and may include transfer articulation, Honors-specific scholarships, and/or application fee waivers.

Participant Institutions: 4-year colleges and universities who are interested in attracting American Honors students, and who provide limited benefits such as application fee waivers and participation in transfer activities.

Version: May 31, 2018 - Please note that our transfer network participant list is continuously evolving. For the most up-to-date list and transfer conditions, please check <http://www.americanhonors.org/partners>
